

PROFILE: Dedicated medical writer skilled in producing scientifically accurate medical communication deliverables tailored to diverse audiences and specifications. Experienced in providing research and writing support to clients, ensuring alignment with communication objectives and industry guidelines. Proactive team player contributing strategic recommendations for continuous quality improvement. Eager to use my creativity, scientific acumen, and keen eye for clarity to further medical knowledge.

COMMUNICATION EXPERIENCE:

Science Content Manager, MPN Research Foundation

May 2024 – Present

- Industry Expert: Leveraging global cancer research ecosystem to stay up to date with the latest scientific advancements and developments
- Collaborate for Success: Collaborating with researchers, clinicians, and internal teams to contextualize the research and treatment landscape and curate the foundation's research portfolio, positions, and impact
- Diverse Scientific Content Creation: Managing marketing, communications, and design projects to develop scientifically accurate publications and marketing materials that aligns with organizational goals and effectively engages target audiences
- Engaging Messages with Integrity: Ensuring the accuracy and scientific integrity of all content produced by the organization and accuracy of corporate messaging and adherence to communication policies.

Medical Writer, Speak the Science LLC

May 2020 – Present

- Created high-quality written, visual, and audio science content, including patient-facing articles, scientific news pieces, slide decks, and manuscripts
- Composed in-depth literature reviews of scientific fields, including critical evaluation of research methodologies, to ensure comprehensive research summaries
- Cooperated closely with clients to create clear scopes of work and enable the successful production of large projects; designed new suite of human health articles for wellness website
- Able to rapidly acquire in-depth knowledge across various biomedical fields
- Managed an ambitious production schedule with clear production objectives and timelines, while managing contributors to facilitate timely production and promotion of medical research content

PhD. Candidate, Academic and Technical Presentations

Aug. 2012 – Dec. 2019

- Published and presented original biological research findings at multiple academic meetings in written, visual, and oral presentations
- Authored doctorate thesis and two peer-reviewed original research scientific manuscripts (2018, 2023)
- Design and manage cross-department experimental research projects
- Optimizing articles using visual and SEO content to increase engagement

Community Organizer and Editor-in-Chief, Online Newsletters

May 2014 – Present

- Building and maintaining diverse networks, fostering strong relationships with stakeholders

- Engaged in impactful advocacy efforts and educational initiatives such as science outreach events, educational panels, and lectures to boost brand awareness

EDUCATION:

Medical Writing Certificate

American Medical Writers Association, Dec. 2023

- AMWA Essential Skills Certified: Elements of Medical Terminology; Grammar, Punctuation, Sentence Structure and Patterns for Clarity and Style; Statistics for Medical Writers and Editors; Ethics in Medical Writing

Neuroscience PhD.

Emory University, August 2012 – Defended Dec. 2019

- Successfully defended molecular and behavioral neuroscience thesis titled The Molecular Correlates of Auditory Cortical Plasticity from Social Auditory Experience

Double BS Degrees in Cellular Molecular Biology and Psychology

University of Washington, Graduated 2008

TECHNICAL SKILLS:

Production schedule management, Project management, Microsoft Suite, Adobe Photoshop and Illustrator, WordPress, AI Script prompt writing, Social media outreach, R software, JMP, Endnote, Audacity, Seattle Medical and Science Communicator Meetup Organizer, AMWA Member, Podcast hosting and production, CMS, SEO editing